QUOTE

"Trafficking is not an issue that is going to be solved by one person, one organization, or one institution, but rather it is about communities uniting to stand in the gap for the vulnerable, people choosing to see the issue, and lives being transformed."

- Brittany Dunn, CEO of Safe House Project

INSPIRATION

I am inspired by the strength and resilience of our survivors. Each one of them has seen some of the most evil parts of our world, and yet they fight for justice, they pursue reconciliation, they forgive and love again, and they believe that together we can eradicate trafficking. It is my honor and privilege to walk alongside them, and I will forever be changed by the incredible impact they have had on my life.
